

Open Studio at the Akron Art Museum

AAM Social Stories

Today I will be going to Open Studio at the Akron Art Museum!

When I enter the Museum, my grown-up and I will be greeted at the front desk.

My grown-up will help us check in with a Museum worker.

The Museum worker will tell us all of the fun things going on at the Museum.

My grown-up and I will stay together
as we walk to Open Studio.

We will walk through a space with bright colors and big sculptures in a room-sized artwork called Land Jam
on our way to Open Studio.

When we enter Open Studio, we will see clouds, a tent, and even a giant bean bag.

We may also see other grown-ups and children playing together.

I will see a pink wall where I can practice weaving on a giant loom.

I will spy lots of blocks to play with and books to read.

I will explore and create with the different felt shapes and colors on the giant felt wall.

I will play with glow in the dark colors as I create, stack, and dress up in the black light room.

When I am done, I will clean up after myself so other friends can enjoy Open Studio too.

THANK YOU FOR VISITING!

FOLLOW US: @akronartmuseum

AKRON ART MUSEUM

It was a great day exploring Open Studio!

Open Studio is made possible by PNC with additional support from the Kathy Moses Salem Philanthropic Fund of Akron Community Foundation, Mary S. and David C. Corbin Foundation, the Charles E. and Mabel M. Ritchie Foundation, Synthomer Foundation, and Henry V. and Frances W. Christenson Foundation.